

Nature Reviews Cancer

Molecular Pathogenesis and Diagnostic Advances in Lung Cancer

Abstract & Clinical Learning:

Lung cancer remains the leading cause of cancer-related mortality worldwide. This review discusses the genomic landscape of non-small-cell lung cancer (NSCLC), emphasizing EGFR mutations and ALK rearrangements. We analyze the mechanisms of resistance to TKI therapies and the impact of the tumor microenvironment on disease progression.